Tam-O-Shanter and Mr. Pray, always ready to support student functions.

Mr. and Mrs. Pray attired for an enjoyable evening.

Dedication

For the past four years, La Habra High School has stood as a symbol of progress and workmanship to the surrounding community. Of course, this school could not have been built without the cooperation of many persons and agencies. Equally important to the progress made have been the staff, the faculty, and the board of trustees. Out of all those who have helped mold La Habra High into the creditable institution that it is today, we, the publications class, have chosen one who we believe stands as a symbol of its success. We have chosen a person who has been devoted to La Habra High and its students for the past four years. Because of his dedication to us, we have chosen to dedicate this, the 1957-58 HIELAN, to our principal, Mr. Pray, because of your loyalty, devotion, and achievements in behalf of La Habra High School. the students, and the faculty, we dedicate this, the 1957-58 HIELAN, to you.

One aspect of Mr. Pray's devotion to La Habra is seen in his actions with the students. No student on the La Habra campus feels, at any time, that he is unwelcome in the principal's office. Mr. Pray is ready to give worthwhile advice to the student who asks for it. This feeling of warmth is also extended to the faculty at La Habra, and it is plainly evident that there is a strong bond of friendship between them and Mr. Pray.

While relaxing from school, Mr. Pray enjoys a wholesome family life with his wife and five children, often taking time to enjoy his favorite sport, skiing.

Mr. Pray enjoys skiing at Snow Valley with daughter, Pam.

Trips to places of interest are frequent for the Prays.

Dear Highlanders:

As another year nears conclusion, I am glad to express commendation and appreciation to all on the La Habra High School campus. The teamwork of faculty, students and parents has made La Habra a truly happy high school. The good results we are arleady receiving regarding the first graduating class from colleges and universities, as well as from employers, testify to the effective learning that is taking place.

We hope you in turn will be grateful for the inspiration and support you have received as a member of a strong and well established union district. We hope that with the obvious fine progress being made on physical facilities, we may always strive for a program of spiritual and intellectual development second to none. On behalf of our Board of Trustees and their administrative officers, permit me to express our very best wishes now and through the years ahead.

Cordially yours, Stanley Warburton

Though this graduating class is the second in the short history of L.H.H.S., it is the first to spend four years on this campus. Your administration, faculty, and staff are proud to have worked with each of you as you have progressed from freshmen to seniors.

In thinking of you as the "first" to spend four years as Highlanders, we hope you will meet the many future "firsts" with courage, strength, and judgment. We hope to have trained you to undertake these challenges. You have carried L.H.H.S. well along its path to an established school — we anticipate your continued support and pride as L.H.H.S. alumni in college, at work, and in society. The record you achieve as citizens will reflect the attitudes and habits you began at L.H.H.S. We hope your future will be an inspiration to

On these two pages are the people who handle the affairs of business and maintenance on the La Habra High School campus. The bookstore has kept supplies on hand for our school necessities during the year. The nurse has always been available when someone comes around with a stomach ache or a cold. The attendance supervisors have done their best to keep the students in school, and happy, and we can always find the helpful secretaries in the office ready to solve our problems. At lunch and after school the ladies at the snack bar are there to serve us food and tell us not to crowd. Not least, but last, are the custodians whose job it is to keep our campus clean and in order.

We owe much to these friends of ours and to them we say THANK YOU

Sophomore Class

Bill Dickenson President

In listing the activities of the Sophomore class of 1957-58 we find that they started the year off by selecting their class rings, in which the Starfire style was chosen by an overwhelming majority. The Sophomores showed tremendous school spirit at all of the pep rallies. Their dance, which was held in May, was also another one of the many accomplishments.

To plan activities for their class the Sophomore cabinet met every other week.

Junior Class

Dick Evans President

In presenting the Junior class of 1958, we would like to mention just some of the things of which they are very proud. Under the direction of class officers and class advisers, the Junior class had the fun of playing host and hostess to the Senior class for the Senior playnight. With the planning of the Junior-Senior prom came the cupcake sales put on by the Junior class girls. Junior class assemblies were called and, with a large attendance, many plans were made for the year. We salute the Junior class of 1958 and the graduating class of 1959.

The Junior class cabinet under president Dick Evans planned their year of 1958 with many wonderful ideas and plans.

Christmas Formal

As a supporter of the United States Marines' "Toys for Tots," program this year, La Habra High's "Christmas Gift Formal" was again a tremendous success. Everyone brought a gift for a small child as part of the admission. Since the dance was a girl date, a large crowd attended. The decorations featured blue and white streamers centered around a large white Christmas tree with blue blubs. The gym lights were shaded blue, also. The Fullerton J. C. Hornets provided the music.

The backbone of La Habra High's school spirit, during the year, was the Pep Club. Members turned out for all the games and backed up the teams. Many schools commended La Habra on its fine school spirit and the way it pulled for the teams no matter what. The white gloves used by the girls were something new and very effective.

Song and Yell Leaders

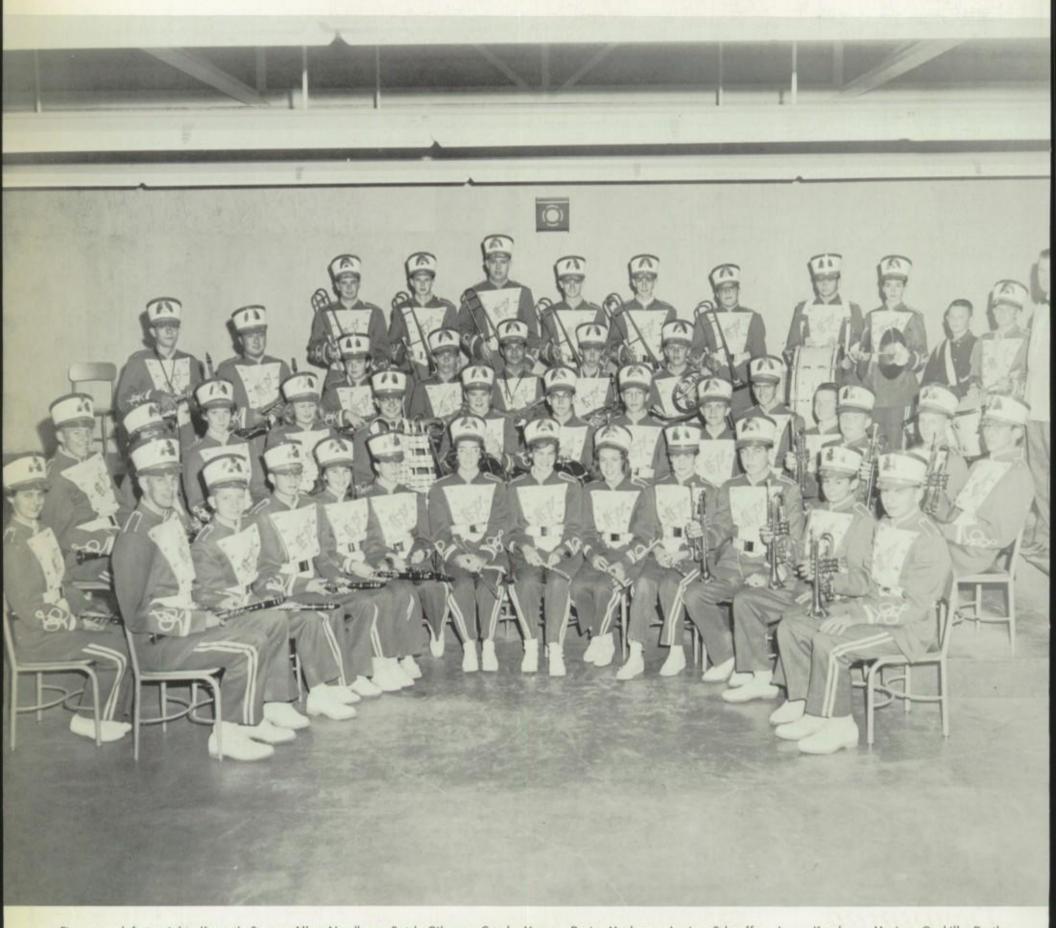

This year's song and yell-leaders introduced new customs to La Habra High School. One was the terrific pep rallies held at noon in the gym. There were yelling contests between the classes, and the losing class had its president wear a sign saying, "My Class has poor Spirit." An original idea introduced by the song and yell leaders was the use of two outfits, one for games, and one for pep-rallies. Also they introduced to La Habra High its first mascot, a Scottie dog called Tam-Ö-Shanter.

Welcome Home - Alumni

Students and Alumni enjoy the danceable music of The Notables.

The Homecoming activities this past year at La Habra High School proved to be both joyful and entertaining. These festivities took place on the evening of November 1, and were ushered in by the introduction of the La Habra Highlander's bagpipe band, which made its first appearance at the football game. The Highlander football team won its first Homecoming game against Newport Harbor High School 13-0. After the game, the Homecoming dance took place in the gym with couples dancing to the music of the Notables. The alumni and the Homecoming queen Anna Marie Garibay and her four attendants were the honored guests at a wonderful dance to be remembered by all.

Last year's yell leaders returned, to help cheer the team on.

Behind every successful performance of a play there is usually a very well organized system of committees and crews. This was true of "Cheaper By the Dozen," the senior class play. Behind the scenes there was much work done by the directors, the stage crew, and different committees. Many hours of work were spent by the people pictured on this page, and by many others, to make a success of the play.

Highland Fling

The theme of this year's Highland Fling was "The First Day of Spring." The students danced under the watchful eye of a 12-foot long butterfly, which was poised over the King and Queen's throne. Marshall Cram again provided the danceable music for the annual affair. Punch and cookies were served those attending. As in the past the Fling was a success.

Leonard Blanchard, President

The Senior class of 1958 was a class with many firsts. Starting as Freshmen at the new La Habra High School, it was the first class to complete four years. As a Junior class it was the first to put on the Junior-Senior Prom, and it was the first Senior class at La Habra High School to have two semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Tests, a distinction of which the class was very proud.

Under the leadership of Senior Class President Leonard Blanchard, the class of 1958 had a very interesting year. Starting off by winning the Student Body Card drive, they were rewarded with a play night. Later on in the year the faculty-varsity basketball game was sponsored by the Senior class. This also proved to be a worthwhile activity.

The seniors rounded out the year with the graduation ceremonies which were held in the La Habra High School stadium.

Swan Song

As the 1958 HIELAN comes to an end (until the Summer Supplement), we hope the readers will stop to think about all the people who, in cooperation with the publications class, helped this book become a reality.

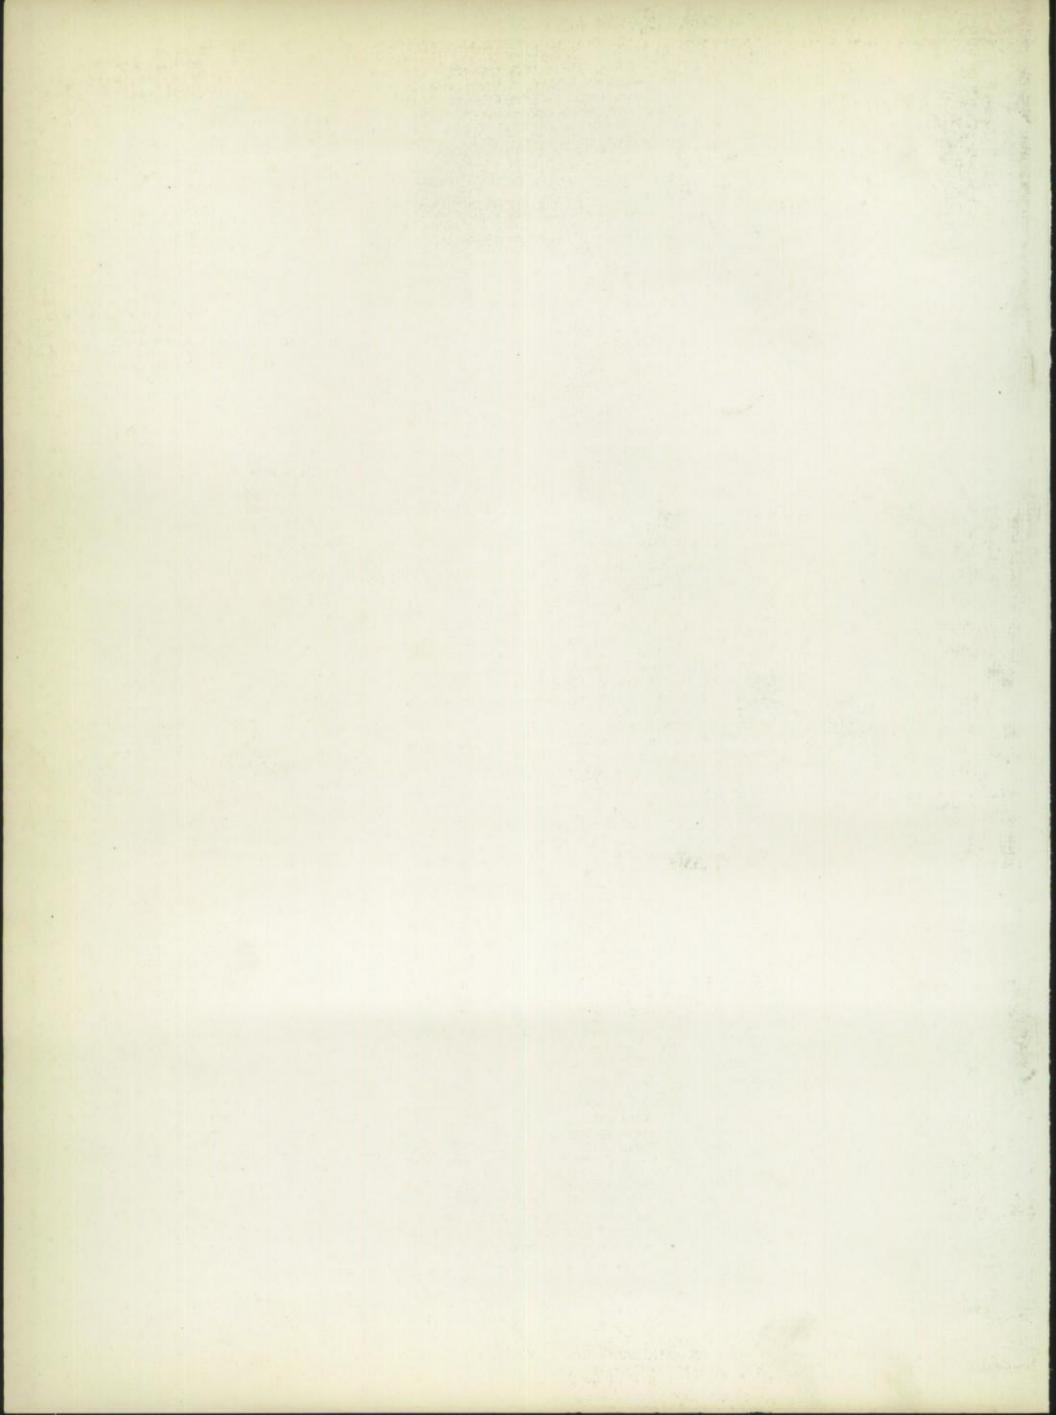

We want to thank Mr. Walter Pray for his interest in our achievement throughout the year. The faculty certainly deserves many bows from us for the cooperation and helpfulness given us on HIELAN endeavors.

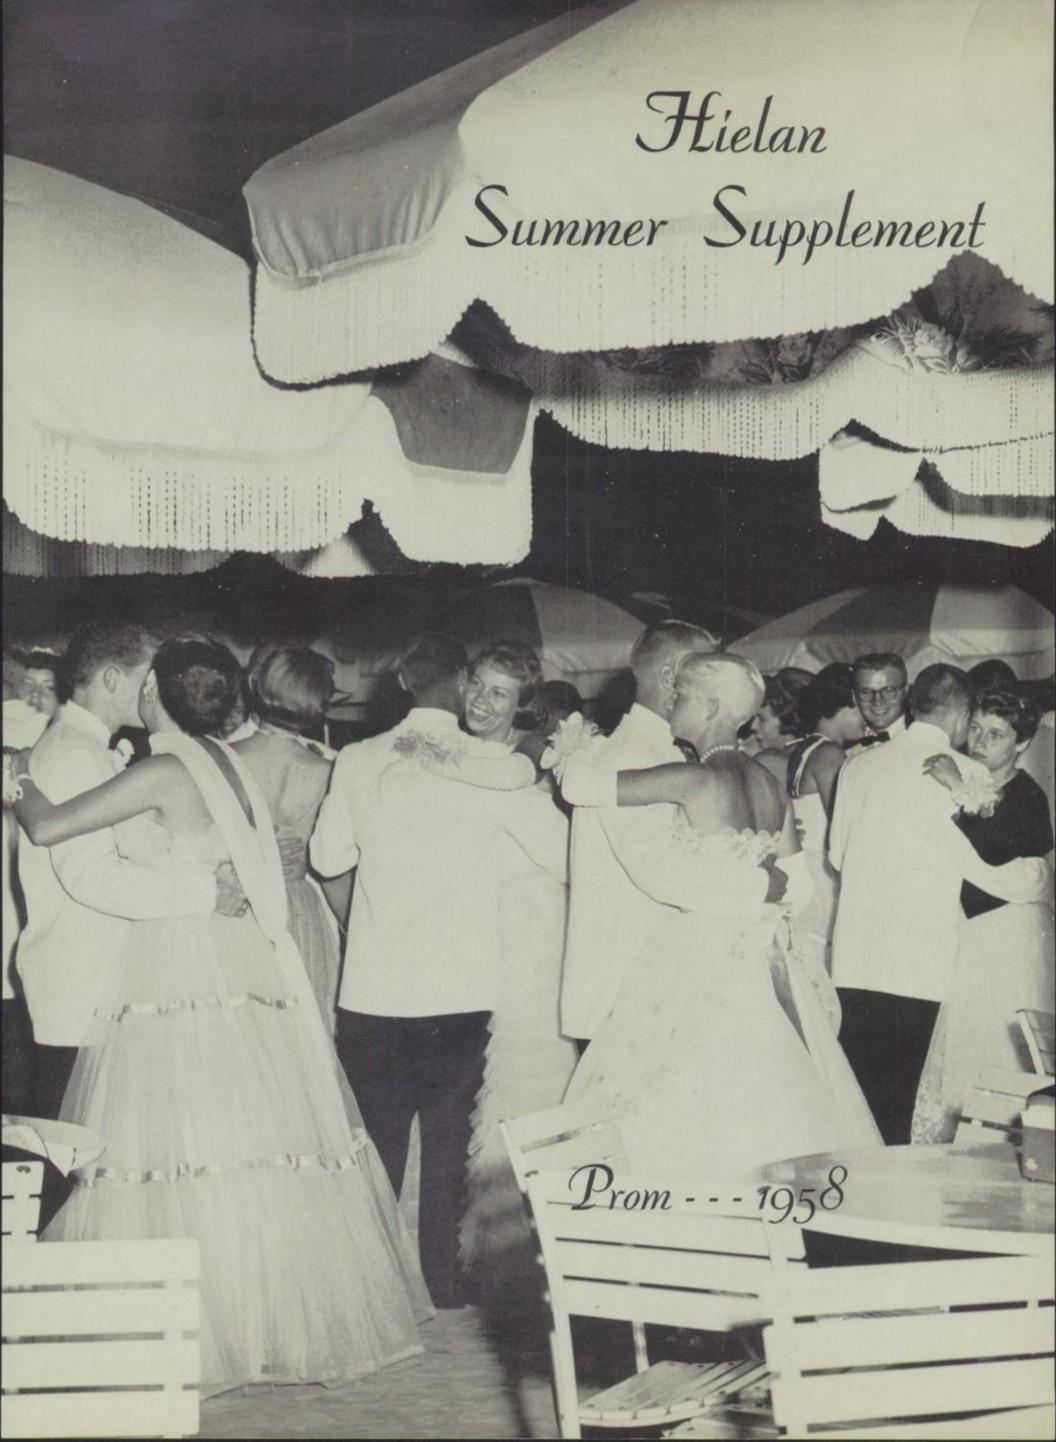

We wish to express our gratitude to Oracam studio of Orange who so efficiently met our photographic needs and to Yearbooks, Incorporated, in Monrovia, who published our yearbook for the second year. They and their staffs played an important part in bringing the yearbook to you.

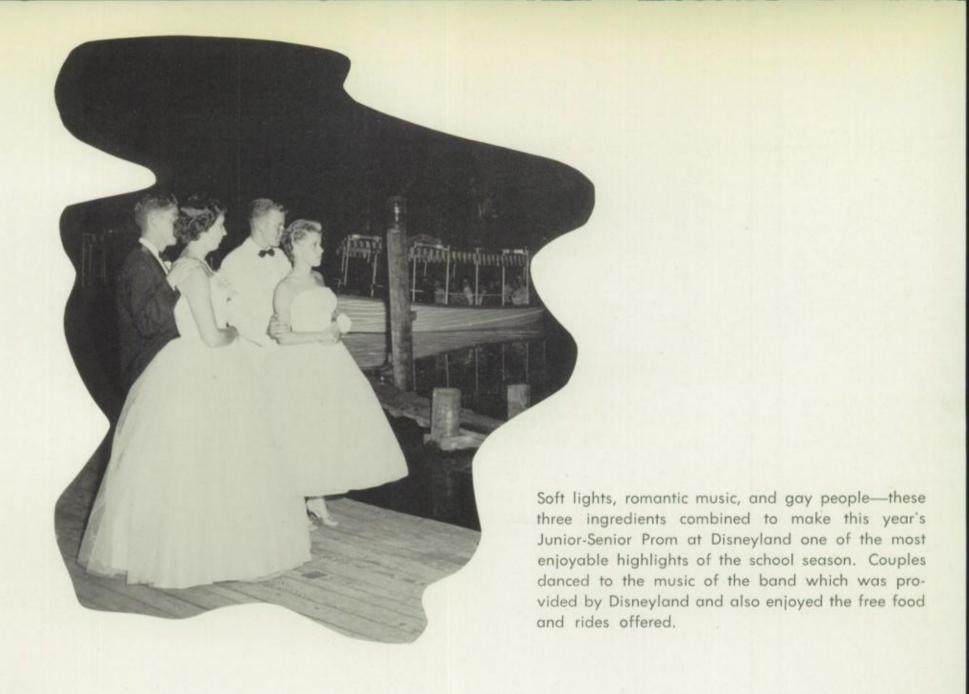

To the advertisers, whose support is essential to the production of this book, we say, "Thank You." Their interest in La Habra High School is apparent as is their wish to deal with the young people of the community by advertising their merchandise in student publications.

Although the reader rarely stops to realize it, all of these people are vital to a successful year-book. But the success of the book also depends upon the students who buy and read it and keep it for many years. They must like the book and believe it to be a fair representation of the year's activities, exemplifying the Senior Class.

Cop 100 Dinner

An effort by the Rotary and Los Compadres Clubs to pay recognition to the select honor students of La Habra resulted in the first annual "Top 100 Banquet", held in the cafetorium this Spring. Nine college presidents attended and the stimulating program was headed by Lawrence T. Cooper, Vice President of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Corporation.

Bermuda Day

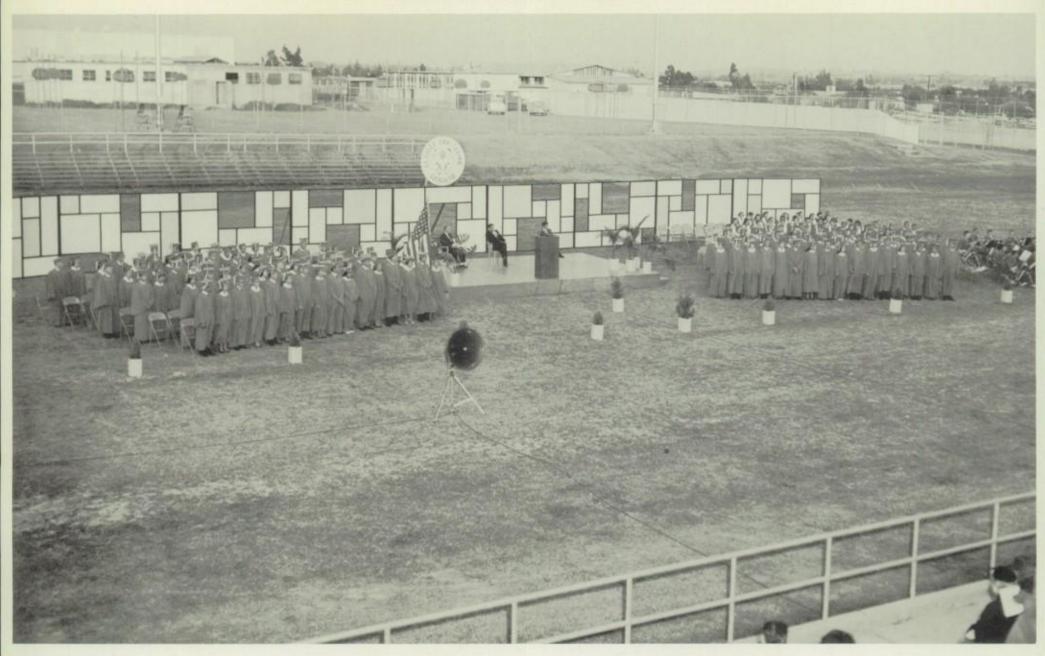

Contestants for the "Knobbiest Knees Contest".

Combining work and fun was the by-word for this year's Bermuda Day. To add more enjoyment to the day's activities a contest was held at noon in the gym to find the boy with the knobbiest knees.

Baccalaureate

The Graduating Class of 1958 stands to receive the greeting given by Mr. Pray.

Pastor Gerald Vandervort of the Church of the Nazarene delivers the Baccalaureate sermon.

The very impressive Baccalaureate services were held in the high school stadium this year. Dr. Kenneth Nelson of the Temple Baptist Church gave the Invocation and Benediction and Pastor Gerald Vandervort of the Church of the Nazarene gave the sermon.

Last Assembly

Mr. Pray welcomes the new Student Body President, George Francisco.

The new president swears in the 1958-59 Student Body Cabinet,

Accompanied by tears and joys the last assembly marked the close of the school year. A highlight of the assembly was the presentation of awards to outstanding Seniors. At the close of the assembly, Freshman girls, dressed in Hawaiian attire, said "aloha" to the Seniors by giving a leis to each of them.

The Freshmen say "aloha" to the Seniors in true Hawaiian fashion.

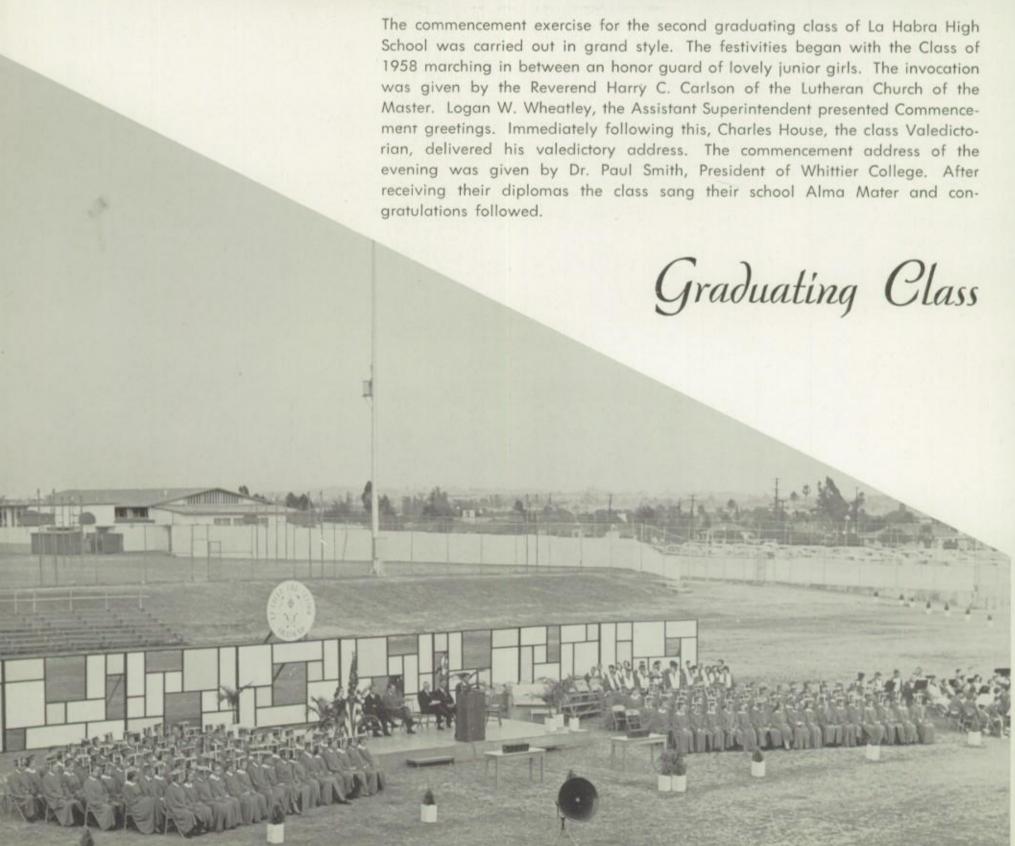

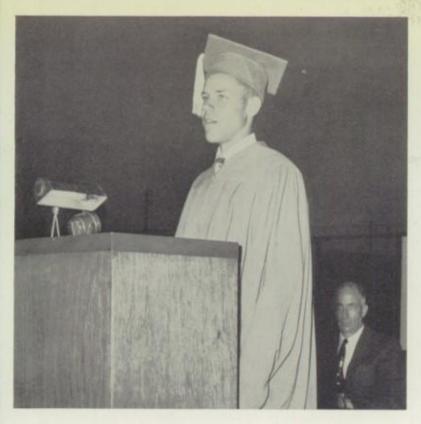

Pablo Luna gratefully receives the American Legion Award.

An Outstanding Student Award is being given to Beverly Francisco.

Charles House, valedictorian, delivers his address.

Dr. Smith of Whittier College delivers the commencement address of the evening.

Mr. Walter Pray presided over the exercises.

of 1957 - 58

The graduating class marches in to the processional played by the La Habra High School Band.

The Seniors are graced on each side by the Junior honor guard.

Senior Party

Merry Seniors arrive for an evening of fun.

Amidst the glamour of the Candlewood Country Club and filled with the excitement of graduation, the Seniors of 1958 gathered together to say good-bye. After a night of dancing, dining, swimming, and merry-making, each Senior, facing a new day, went his way knowing he may never see some of his classmates again.

Parents collect the tickets as Seniors entered,

Last minute annual signing was a familiar sight.

Mother - Daughter Banquet

Guests anxiously await the evening's entertainment.

Mothers show their versatility by providing the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Baldwin and daughter Gayle receive their dessert.

Charming mothers were the guests of their daughters at the Mother-Daughter Banquet sponsored by the Girls' League. Carrying through the banquet's theme of "Heaven Scent" were lovely bouquets of flowers and gaily decorated paper skunks which were placed on each table. The highlight of the evening was the entertainment which displayed the talents of some of the mothers.

Baseball

The player hurries back to first base in a close race against the ball.

The pitcher hurls the ball towards the home plate, hoping for a strike.

Although the baseball teams had a poor season in the winning bracket, they certainly didn't lack in sportsmanship. It is said that the hopes for next year's teams are running high as the summer season teams are in top shape.

This year's swimming teams had a moderately successful season. The varsity squad had a very good year in comparison to previous teams, and they are very proud to have finished in fourth place in Sunset League competition. The co-captains of the varsity squad were Bill Webber and Jim Fulton.

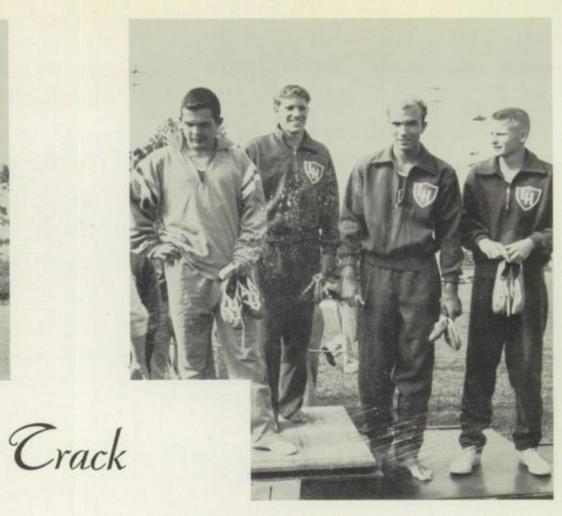

At the sound of the starter's gun the contestants are off.

Again swimmers are off for an exciting race.

After cinching La Habra's victory, the relay team awaits its justly deserved honors.

La Habra High School has a just right to be proud of its 1958 track squad. For the first time in the school's history, one of its sport teams has secured a varsity first place in the Sunset League. Not only did the varsity track team do excellently by winning the Sunset League Championship, but the B and C teams also had a fine year. When asked how he felt about his track squad, coach Willie Wilson remarked, "They're the greatest."

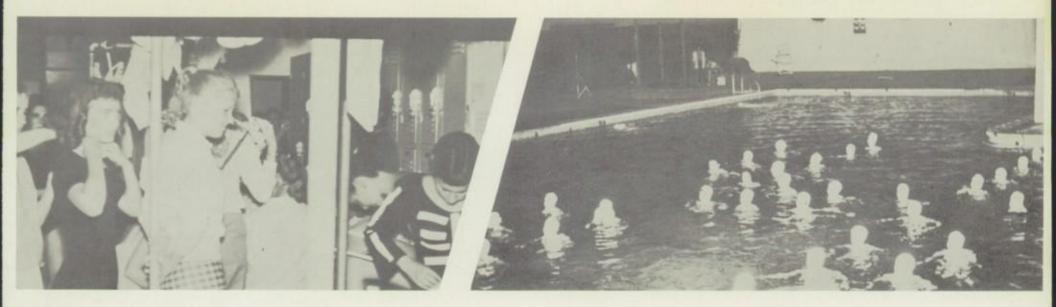

Wayne Florian goes over for a close jump.

John Eastman reaches the tape first for an exciting finish and victory.
